BOY GIVES LIFE IN VAIN EFFORT TO SAVE FRIEND

William Irish and Kenneth Keeling, Children's Home Inmates, Drowned In Pond Sunday Afternoon When Ice Breaks—Bodies Recovered

Kenneth Keeling, 17, gave his life in an unsuccessful attempt to save that of William Irish, 16, who broke thru the ice of a small pond known as Hoover's gravel pit, one-fourth mile south of the Children's Home, at 2 p. m. Sunday. Both had been inmates of the home for the past 10 years.

The boys were skating on the pond, having disregarded strict orders from C. W. Walters, superintendent of the home. They ran away from the home in company with Robert Southerland, Robert Lanford, Edwin White, Walter Ward, Francis Vorhees and David Reeves, all inmates of the institution.

Their companions were unable to save Keeling and Irish from death. BRAVADO IS FATAL

They were during each other to see who would go nearest to the edge of the pond, where it was not thickly frozen, it is stated, when Irish broke thru the ice. He threw up his hands, calling once for help and disappeared from sight. Keeling, seeing his comrade drowning, made heroic attempt to rescue him and was pulled under by the weight of the drowning youth, both going down together.

Firemen, police and an ambulance crew hurried to the scene with grappling hooks and pumps.

Body of Irish was recovered at 2:35 p. m. by John Stevens, city fireman, 35 minutes after he had taken his fatal plunge into the icy water. The pump from the police department was used, but all efforts to resuscitate the boy failed.

Body of Keeling was recovered at 3:10 p. m. by John Stevens, city fireman, 35 minutes after he had taken his fatal plunge into the icy water. The pump from the police department was used, but all efforts to resuscitate the boy failed.

A crowd of more than 500 people was attracted to the scene and watched the members of the rescue party.

BODIES RECOVERED—The body of William Irish was recovered at 3:10 p. m. by John Stevens, city fireman, 35 minutes after he had taken his fatal plunge into the icy water. The pump from the police department was used, but all efforts to resuscitate the boy failed.

The bodies were taken to the Williams & Davis morgue, where coroner Frank Smith gave a verdict of accidental death by drowning.

Records show that both boys have parents living. James Irish and Ernest Keeling, whose whereabouts are not known to Superintendent C. W. Walters, Irish has two sisters and Keeling has a sister who was taken from the institution six years ago and placed in a private home. None of these relatives had been located Monday noon.

Double funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. from the Shawnee church, in charge of Rev. O. E. Smith. Interment in Shawnee cemetery.

MASK BILL COMES UP TOMORROW

Ohio Solons to Act on Measure Aimed at Hooded Gangs

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — While both houses of the state legislature were scheduled today for a week-end adjournment, neither was expected to do more than stand by while more measures fall into their respective lapsers. A meeting of the Uniform Tax League of Ohio in conjunction with the Cornstalk club of the legislature was to be held in the house caucus room and a number of members expected to attend this.

Tuesday was expected to see the first real attack on the business of actual law-making when measures dealing with prohibition enforcement and the activities of masked bands are to be taken.

The prohibition bill introduced in the senate by Senator Bender of Cuyahoga county, would make the furnishing of poison liquor which results in death amenable to a murder charge; would extend the law to take the liquor "sollicitor" and would make the manufacture of distilled liquor a felony which entails penitentiary sentence. A committee amendment to the bill forbids the remittance or suspension by judges of any part of either the fine or the imprisonment. The measure was recommended for passage by the senate temperance committee.

The measure dealing with masked bands would provide that a first degree murder charge be placed against any person who while wearing a mask killed another while in the perpetration of a felony.

Further committee work on the raft taxation bill also was scheduled for the week.

35 HOODED MEN TO BE ARRESTED

Will be Outcome of Louisiana Probe, Coco Says

MURDERERS ARE IDENTIFIED

Super-Government Declared Built up by Ku Klux

BATON ROUGE, La. — (Associated Press) — Attorney General A. V. Coco who was called from Washington to the capital to confer with Governor John M. Parker on the Louisiana situation, declared last night as he was leaving on his return to Baton Rouge to resume the open hearing into hooded band activities in Morehouse parish, that 25 to 35 arrests and 50 to 75 indictments would be the outcome of the testimony presented at the state's investigation.

After the conference Mr. Coco announced he expected the hearing would end next Thursday. "The evidence is clear that the Ku Klux Klan had built up a super-government and was running things their own way," the attorney general said. "The Ku Klux Klan was the government of Morehouse. That much has been established beyond a doubt. The state has also established the identity of some of the members of the mob who murdered Watt Daniel and Thomas Richard. Against some of the hooded men there will be as high as six charges made."

Whether the state would ask a special grand jury to hear the testimony taken at the open hearing would be determined by developments. Mr. Coco stated. It was stated in the event there was no grand jury indictment returned the state would proceed against those involved thru affidavits for anything less than murder.

DEPOSED FUND SOUGHT

JARRISON, Ark. — (United Press) — A three million dollar fund to prosecute the "citizens committee" — the new government in the Ozark hills — was sought today by labor organizations.

The fund will be used to arrest and convict vigilantes guilty of the lynching of E. C. Gregor, and the flogging and deportation of scores of other striking railroad workers, according to the federated shop crafts of Fort Smith, where the prosecution plan was launched.

Every shop union in the country will be called upon to set aside one percent of the earnings of each worker during the next 30 days for the fund.

Labor also will fight constituted officials who are members of the "citizens committee" according to reports here. The prosecution of these officials will be sought, it was reported.

The vigilantes today prepared for an investigation by a committee from the state legislature. The committee will probe the lynching of Gregor and other outbreaks in connection with the situation which resulted in a mob of 1,500 farmers and business men from northern Arkansas gathering here last Monday to prevent paralysis of the meandering railroad the Missouri and North Arkansas.

Jarrison was quickly early today as the "citizens committee" completely organized took permanent charge of affairs. George McVey, hotel proprietor of Leslie, Ark., arrested on a charge of arson, elected to remain in jail for safety.

MAN WILL FIGHT FALSE REGISTRATION CHARGE

John Van Heften, of Fort Wayne, pleaded not guilty to a charge of false registration at a local hotel. In criminal court Monday, and was released under $50 bond, pending trial Wednesday afternoon.

George Jones, Toledo, admitted guilt on the same charge and was fined $25. Clara Smith, 32, also of Toledo, failed to appear in court and the case was continued.

FAUROT BLOCK LEASED

Lima Men Close Deal for Downtown Property Involving $2,500,000

EFFECTIVE MAY 1

No Changes In Building Contemplated at Present, Lessees Say

Announcement of the leasing of the Faurot-bik, one of Lima's most valuable parcels of downtown real estate, for 99 years with a purchase clause effective for 25 years by Lima men was made Monday. The lease involves $2,500,000 in down payment and rentals.

Maize Brothers, owners of the building, have leased the block to the real estate firm of Michael & Fisher, N. L. Michael, Julius Wise and Benjamin Ackerman.

A cash payment of $75,000 will be made and a rental of $25,000 a year for the term of the lease is provided. The optional purchase price, which may be exercised any time within 25 years, was not made public. The leasing of this property is the biggest real estate deal in Lima in recent years.

The lease becomes effective May 1, 1923, it was announced by Ackerman.

Speaking for the lessees, Ackerman said no immediate changes in the block are contemplated. He said the Old National bank has a lease which runs more than four years, which precludes any possible changes in the financial institution's home so far as the lessees are concerned.

WILL CONTINUE THEATER

The Faurot opera house will be operated by the new organization, Ackerman said. The present management probably will be retained so far as he knows, he said.

E. J. Maize, one of the owners of the property, declined to make any statement concerning the deal other than to admit it was a fact. He said he had not been made a matter of record in the transaction.

The building, with business rooms on Main and High-sts. and scores of offices suites, is one of the city's best known and valuable blocks. Its history dates back to the old building days when the Standard had offices there. It was built by Benjamin C. Faurot about 1854 and was bought some years later by the Standard Oil. It was acquired 15 or 20 years ago by the Maize Brothers, who have owned it since that time.

Older residents of the city remember well the old Music hall on the top floor which was a meeting place for the general community. It was used for dances, entertainments of all sorts and was one of the most popular places in the city.

DOLLAR SHRINKING

Yale Economist Shows Lower Purchasing Power

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — (Special) — Shrinkage of three-tenths of a cent in the purchasing power of your dollar as compared with the preceding week was noted last week by Prof. Irving Fisher, Yale economist, in his general survey of commodity prices the country over.

This drop in the value of our cash is arrived at by a comparison of prices with the level of 1913. Prof. Fisher today gave the index numbers for the last week as 157 per cent of the prewar price level and a purchasing power of 63.2 cents for the dollar. For the week ending January 12, the figures were 156 per cent and 61.1 cents.

Prof. Fisher's summary, beginning with 1913 prices, follows:

Index Purchasing Power

1913 100 $1.00

1920—May peak 247 40.6

1922—January (low) 133 72.5

1923—last week 157 63.2

BISHOP DEFIED BY REV. GRANT

Declines to Retract Assertions About Power of Jesus

ALSO REFUSES TO RESIGN

New York Rector Applauded When He Reiterates Belief

NEW YORK — (United Press) — The Rev. Percy Stickney Grant today refused to obey orders of Bishop William T. Manning that he retract his assertions that Jesus did not have the power of God or resign his post as rector of the Episcopal Church of the Ascension.

Before crowds that jammed the church while thousands stood outside unable to get in, Dr. Grant yesterday reiterated his views that religion must be simplified. The audience, among which were many curious as well as religious worshippers, broke into a time and again in bursts of applause.

The sermon was interpreted by many of Dr. Grant's followers as an intimation that the rector expects to be tried for heresy for his belief.

PLEA OF BISHOP

At almost the same time, Bishop Manning spoke in New Haven to Yale students taking as his text "Be Thou Faithful Unto Death," and pleading for loyalty to the church, and Grant's assertion that Christ did not perform miracles was subject of comment in Episcopal and other pulpits throughout the country.

Not only did Dr. Grant "stand by his guns" as to previous utterances, but amid applause heard blocks away—a thing without precedent in the austere and fashionable church—he amplified them.

Sometimes with fighting demeanor and then almost abashed, he declared he was supported in his views by the apostles, Matthew, Mark and Luke.

UNPRECEDENTED CROWD

He asked his hearers whether they wanted a church that believes in freedom rather than authority, an unshackled clergy permitting the minister to speak the truth.

"Then have them."

The great crowd that attempted to hear Dr. Grant yesterday was unprecedented at a New York church. The regular worshippers found themselves crowded out by those who packed the church early.

Scores of fashionably dressed men, many in their clothing disarranged, stamped angrily away after unsuccessfully trying to shove their way thru men and women standing in doorways.

WAR FEARED IN LONDON AS TEUTON MINERS QUIT IN DEFIANCE OF INVADERS

Situation in Ruhr Causes Anxious Comment in England

CLASH AT ARMS IS SEEN

Moscow Writer Calls Conditions Worse Than in 1914

LONDON — (United Press) — Numerous Bolshevik agents are active here advising the workers to be patient until the Russian army, which is being hurriedly reorganized, is ready for war against Franco to liberate Germany, expected early this summer, according to the Times Berlin correspondent.

LONDON — (United Press) — Germany is on the eve of instituting military conscription, which the Versailles treaty forbids, according to the Daily Mail's Mayence correspondent.

PARIS — (United Press) — Premier Mussolini has instructed the Italian ambassador at Washington to propose mediation regarding reparations, hoping the United States can be persuaded to call a world conference, the Belvoir's Rome correspondent telegraphed today.

LONDON ALARMED

LONDON — (Associated Press) — The critical situation in the Ruhr is a subject of much anxious comment by the morning newspapers, which regard the outlook as so dangerous that it is imperative to find some way of relieving the deadlock.

"Perils is expected in some quarters that Great Britain be forced into some form of active intervention against her will. Some circles are also fearful that if France, under the present line of her policy she will be obliged to increase her forces greatly in the occupied district with the result that Germany may follow with military action which would mean war."

There has already been a report that Germany was arranging to reinstate conscription, but no official confirmation of this was forthcoming this morning. Another report, this time from Paris, said that General Ludendorff had been recently at Muenster where he witnessed maneuvers by troops gathered at that point. This, however, was also unconfirmed.

Some commentators entertain the belief that France is convinced she has miscalculated the German temper and, finding the results of the occupation to be more than she expected, seeks a means of withdrawing if possible, without loss of her prestige.

To this end, it is stated here, France is re-examining the British and Italian proposals which she rejected at the Paris conference.

Meanwhile today's developments in the Ruhr are awaited in Great Britain with much anxiety.

WAR POSSIBILITIES

MOSCOW — (Associated Press) — Although Russia has reduced her active army to 600,000 men, she has not shut her eyes to possible military danger and it is understood that the government has taken a number of measures to create at the necessary moment a force able to repulse any attack, writes M. Stokloff, editor of Izvestia. He expresses the opinion that there are more war possibilities in the European situation today than in 1914.

He reviews the sheets of the old quarrel between America and Japan and finds that the commercial rivalry of America and England and the growing differences between the latter country and France are full of war possibilities at a time when Memel, the Balkans and the Ruhr threaten to set off the powder magazine.

HOTELS BAR FRENCH

BERLIN — (Associated Press) — Frenchmen and Belgians find it welcome in Berlin since the occupation of the Ruhr district. The hotels all display the sign "French and Belgian citizens not admitted" and the hotel clerks and waiters refuse to speak French. French wines have been crossed off the menus and cannot even be obtained in the liquor stores. The displays in the wine shop windows comprise California, Spanish and German wines only.

Barbers and chemists have laid aside all French cosmetics and toilet preparations. An American woman who speaks German fluently was upbraided by a German saleswoman when she inquired in a shop for a French perfume. All good Germans, said the saleswoman, must show their patriotism at this time by using German-made goods.

French dishes have disappeared from the menus of the restaurants and hotels and the waiters even refuse to serve French mustard.

The hotels and cafes are doing little business and many of them have released part of their staffs since the exodus of tourists and the threats of general strike. An order becoming effective tonight bans

BOYCOTT AGAINST FRANCE WIDENS

Sport News Put Under Ban by Germans

BERLIN — (Associated Press) — French racing and other sporting news has been added to the German boycott index against France. The National Zeitung announces that hereafter it will suspend the publication of news of French sporting events in deference to "the wishes of all decent and patriotically inclined readers."

German student fraternities are petitioning university heads to exclude Frenchmen, Belgians and Lithuanians. The Theater Managers' Association has passed a resolution to exclude French plays. The Actors' Union publishes a protest against "the inundation of the German stage by frivolous, lascivious and tawdry French concoctions."

GERMANS BOIT

PARIS — (Associated Press) — The German government has formally ceased participation in the Franco-German arbitration tribunal because of "the present political circumstances."

Notice to this effect was served today as the hearing was about to open in a banking case handled by a Franco-American legal firm.

The mixed Franco-German arbitration tribunal is a court established under the treaty of Versailles to settle the various business controversies arising out of the war and to determine the application of the treaty to the settlement of claims. When the tribunal convened today under the presidency of M. Botelle with the French arbitrator, M. Gandelphes present, a letter was received from the German arbitrator, Dr. Johannes, giving notice that it was impossible for him to collaborate.

M. Botelle took formal note of the German attitude in abstaining from a part in the operation of the treaty tribunal and it was announced that the French would notify the German government to appoint a member of the court. If this were not done with a month, it was added, the council of the league of nations, would under the treaty be asked to name a neutral substitute.

BLOOD TRANSFER

George Bayly Gives Life Fluid to Save F. C. Cunningham

Blood transfusion was resorted to at St. Rita's hospital, Sunday afternoon, to save the life of Frank C. Cunningham, cashier of the First National Bank, who is suffering from poisoning caused by an infected hand.

George Bayly, 1525 Lakewood-av., a business associate and friend, made the transfusion possible by giving blood for the patient.

One pint of blood was drawn from Bayly's body and transferred to that of the patient. More than two hours was required.

Success of the operation was predicted Monday by hospital attaches, who declared Cunningham's condition was then much improved.

BINGHAM ASKS SHOWDOWN WITH COUNTY ON STRAY DOGS

LAW AND CUSTOM IS CITED

Letter Appeals to Commissioners to Enforce Statute

PLANS IN VOGUE ELSEWHERE

City Mot "Passing Buck," Manager Says

A showdown on the question of stray and unlicensed dogs running at large in the city is demanded in a letter sent by C. A. Bingham, city manager, to the county commissioners.

This letter, asking the county officials whether they intend to enforce the provisions of the state law in regard to the running at large of dogs, was made public by Bingham Monday morning.

Portions of letters received from 10 municipal and county officials in the state are quoted in the communication, showing that in other counties the state law is being upheld without any dispute arising between the city and the county.

On May 17, 1922, a letter was written to the county commissioners pointing out the fact that the city is overrun with unlicensed dogs and quoting section 565-7 of the state code which provides that the county shall handle the situation.

Another letter was written to the commissioners May 27 and this was followed by two others, one on June 7 and the other on June 22, 1922. County officials have neglected to answer any of the letters, Bingham declares.

WHAT LAW SAYS

Under the law sheriffs "shall patrol their respective counties, seize and impound on sight all dogs running at large in violation of the law. County commissioners shall provide for the employment of deputy sheriffs necessary to enforce the provisions of this act," Bingham asserts.

County commissioners, it is understood at city hall, believe the city is trying to "pass the buck" and that it is not the business of the sheriff to chase dogs.

"It has been reported that the county officials assert I am trying to put an eastern law in effect in Ohio and that the thing we desire is not the rule in other Ohio cities," Bingham said in explaining the letter.

"In order to disprove this fact and to show the people of Lima the conditions existing in their own state and the provisions of the law which are so openly violated in Allen Co., I obtained the following statement from other city officials," he continued.

Springfield: City Manager W. H. Mahony states: "With reference to the law regarding the running at large of dogs and the employment of a dog catcher, that is taken care of by our county officials."

Sandusky: City Manager C. W. Sadler, states: "As to the disposition of unregistered dogs, the sheriff appoints a dog catcher, each year in April, who attempts to catch all dogs not wearing registration tags."

Warren: Mayor J. McBride states: "As to Section 565-7, regarding the dog law, we have had an organization under the sheriff, as provided by this section and it is very well taken care of. While we work with them and report any violations to them."

Findlay: Mayor H. R. Rodabaugh states: "The county officials have enforced the law regarding the licensing of dogs and we are pleased to state that the city officials have not been compelled to even assist."

Ellettsburg: Mayor Asaph Jones states: "In regard to the registration of dogs and the destroying of unlicensed dogs, would state that this matter has been handled entirely by the sheriff of this county. He has hired a man to look after this work on a stated salary for the past two years."

HUMANE SOCIETY WORK

Columbus: Mayor James J. Thomas states: "The sheriff delegates the work to the humane society."

East Cleveland: City Manager C. A. Carran states: "Cuyahoga Co. has entered into an agreement with the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, under which this society seizes and impounds all dogs not wearing the registration tags under section 565-8. The work is being well done by the county and our city police has had no occasion to become concerned in this regard."

Dayton: R. O. Michelberger, city manager, states: "The county is looking after the impounding of unregistered dogs in a satisfactory manner."

Norwood: Mayor Louis H. Nolte states: "I wish to state that the county officials of Hamilton Co. take care of all business pertaining to the licensing and impounding of dogs in the city of Norwood and therefore it is not necessary for our police department to give this matter any attention at all."

Cincinnati: Charles Lamont, deputy auditor, states: "The sheriff takes care of the dogs not wearing dog licenses."

An appeal to the county officials to enforce the law during the coming year is contained in the concluding paragraph of the letter.

During the past year county officials have consistently refused to enforce the law and have ridiculed the city to all citizens who called over the telephone asking that stray dogs overrunning their property be impounded or destroyed, Bingham asserted.

KICKS ON WATER BILL

J. F. Eickel, owner of the Fountain Hotel building at St. Marys, has begun suit to enjoin the city, and county treasurer and auditor from collecting $153.90 for water service assessed by the city against the property in 1913, before he came the owner of the hotel.

OLD SOL CHASES GLOOM OF RAIN

After a gloomy and over-wet Saturday night, rainfall having started the Ottawa river on a rampage again, the second for the week. Sunday conditions were more inviting.

Monday, Lima awoke to a bright morning and a heavy frost, with Old Sol soon on the job as an eliminator of the city's fantastic crystals and the purveyor of joy to the hearts of everyone in general. According to the "dope" worked out by the weatherman, continued fair to night and Tuesday is the order, with no change in temperature.

So long as the "good old winter time" is with us, crisp weather conditions are a natural sequence. However, the forecaster is more than kind when he refrains from sending rain, sleet or wet snow, for all of which the populace generally is thankful.

It was early up to greet his old pal, King Sun and take advantage of the smiles of the orb of day. It is a natural umbrella menderers are in temporary retirement. The average citizen is much like the Arkansas Traveler. When it is raining they need the shower stick and haven't time to have it repaired. When it isn't raining, they don't need it repaired.

FRANCE PLANS TO FORCE WORK

dustrial leaders of the Ruhr, for refusal to obey French orders.

HOPES OF FRENCH

The French are hopeful they can break down Germany's passive resistance. The United Press was informed that no attempt will be made at first, to enforce labor at the Ruhr mines. The French high command counts upon hunger and privation to drive the Westphalians to work. The latter, however, have the backing of their government; they will be paid while they are on strike, and are threatened with prosecution if they work. An endurance test of wills is on.

Some Germans are planning resistance other than passive if persistent reports are credited. They are veterans of Upper Silesian fighting and are reported to be reorganizing just beyond the neutral zone that marks limits of occupied territory. Whether these bands plan to unite and enter the Ruhr or to act in the event that France crosses the neutral zone is unknown.

There was a report that important German troop movements were in progress Sunday at Münster and that several train loads of Reichswehr had arrived but even the French command doubts this.

NEW REPARATIONS PLAN

PARIS — (Associated Press) — The new French reparation plan, ready for submission to the reparations commission today, provides for a German domestic loan of three billion gold marks guaranteed by the Reich's leading industrialists.

With the exception of 50,000,000 gold marks, which would be used in stabilizing the currency the proceeds of the proposed loan would be paid on the allied reparation account. The guarantee demanded by France is practically the same as she now holds.

Premier Poincaré, Louis Barthou and the other French experts make their proposal contingent upon the withdrawal of all resistance to France's Ruhr policy or to allied action in other territories occupied under the Versailles treaty.

In commenting upon the fact that the plan provides for no moratorium, French officials point out that a two year delay will be considered if Germany agrees to submit to the coercive measures permitted by the treaty. As the case now stands, it is said there is little use in offering a moratorium, if the German government refuses to recognize the treaty that imposes the payments.

BERLIN — (United Press) — An offer of mediation in the reparations dispute was received by the German government today from Premier Mussolini of Italy.

Chancellor Cuno replied that Germany could not consent to negotiate while French troops were in the Ruhr. They also demanded participation of all the allies in any negotiations.

BUS SERVICE EXTENDED FROM LIMA TO KENTON

Bus service between Lima and Kenton, by way of Lafayette, Mo. Cuffey and Ada, was installed Monday morning by the W. H. Mertz truck line, with four trips each way every day.

Automobiles will leave the Waldo hotel at 7:05 a. m., 9:05 a. m., 1:05 p. m. and 4:05 p. m. They will arrive at 8:55 a. m., 10:55 a. m., 2:55 p. m. and 5:55 p. m.

Transportation charges will be that three cents a mile for passengers whether they go the entire distance or between local stops. Proprietors of the line believe the service will prove popular.

This service was started thru the efforts of the Board of Commerce when the Pennsylvania Railroad announced removal of two accommodation trains from its schedule. Several hundred people come to Lima from these towns every day.

GERMAN CLAIMS

BERLIN — (Associated Press) — The picture of Germany countering further claims of France and Belgium with an indemnity bill of her own, for the Ruhr occupation is already being sketched in political circles here.

In these quarters it is confidently believed that the Reich will not hesitate to model her own statement on the matter after the obligations to the allies. A long list of claims against France and Belgium by German nationals is expected, and to these will probably be added the nation's estimate of the damage to its sovereignty by the armed occupation. As precedents for such course of action, Reichstag leaders have already turned to the Passau and Ingolstadt incidents when the Reich was fined 1,000,000 marks because German civilians insulted members of the entente control commission.

A suggestion for an American protectorate over the Ruhr is meeting with considerable favor in Bourse circles, where it originated. Such a step, it is believed, would prevent the French from permanently controlling the Ruhr industrial area and would therefore be to the interests of American and British trade.

An immediate coal famine in unoccupied Germany is not generally feared here if the Ruhr coal mines can maintain the output of the last ten days. Only one half of the Reich's support comes from that source and with British importations and stimulated production in other fields a shortage does not seem imminent. It is admitted that considerable depends upon the ability of the Ruhr mines to operate.

The resistance of the Ruhr magistrates has served to crystallize further public opinion. The government has ordered the German charge d'affaires, at Paris to protest the arrests.

YANK'S VIEW OF RUHR SITUATION

(BY HARRY HUNT)

WASHINGTON — (Special) — Collapse of the German government. Seizure of power by communists and extremists.

Coalition between Germany and Russia with Russia's army of 1,000,000 in Germany. Dismissal of the Rallies of German people to a "war of liberation," with conditions for success strongly in Germany's favor.

These are seen by Maj. Gen. Joseph T. Dickman as immediately possible results of further French encroachments on Germany.

Dickman, who commanded the Third division in France, led the American army of occupation into Germany and was in command of American forces on the Rhine until July, 1919. He is particularly fitted to gauge the seriousness of the present situation.

BREAKING POINT NEAR

Dickman's outspoken opinion is that the breaking point in Germany has almost been reached and he fears unless French pressure is modified a new war will result within two weeks.

"Unless the cold counsel of Great Britain prevails with France, a new war between Germany and France is almost certain," he said.

"If Germany could raise the cry of 'war of liberation' as she did in 1805, and the conditions for a successful revolt against the French are much more favorable today than then."

"My opinion is that if the French push matters too far, they will lose all."

"The immediate danger is that the demands of France will force the collapse of conservative, industrial Germany. That means bankruptcy and the immediate seizure of control by communist and extremist groups which at once will join hands with Russia."

"Russia already has an army of 1,300,000 men, equipped and mobilized. As to men power, the German-Bussian combination could master eight or ten to one against France. With German officers to train and lead Russia's forces France quickly would be far outnumbered."

CITIES U. S. EXAMPLE

"And France would face this new war virtually alone. The United States certainly would not join. Great Britain would not in all probability. Belgium might stay with her, but even that is uncertain."

"If the European powers had adopted the policy enforced during the period of occupation by the American army, the situation might be far different. This required that non-combatants, women and children be disturbed as little as possible and that local self-government be continued."

"All domestic and governmental activities continued undisturbed except for regulations necessary to insure security for our troops."

"The French policy, however, was far different. Naturally they were bitter against their former enemies. Their policy was to impose regulations restricting civilian affairs. The outcome of that policy was the growth of hostility on the part of the German people."

"With this as a background, the present French moves seem to me most dangerous. The breaking point certainly cannot be far away. If the break comes—well—"

"I fear France will lose all she has gained or stands to gain."

CIRCUMSTANCES SAVE MAN FROM FINE; WOMAN IS HELD

Helen Evans, 27, of 406 N. Main-st., pleaded guilty in criminal court Monday to being an inmate of the St. Rita's hospital. The case was taken under advisement.

Sylvester Eiken, Delphos, pleaded guilty to visiting a house of ill fame. Extenuating circumstances, however, moved the judge to order Eiken's release from custody.

APPEALS COURT DISMISSES WITHOUT HEARING A CASE INVOLVING 8-HOUR LAW

Litigation involving the right of a man employed on municipal work to labor more than eight hours a day, was dismissed in appeals court Monday, without hearing.

The suit was brought by George W. Hadding, foreman, against J. C. Hagan and the state industrial commission.

Hagan, an inspector, came to Lima and instituted action before Justice E. M. Botkin. Among the contractors arrested were officials of the Ora M. Green Co., Lima Construction Co., W. L. Irwin & Son, and other firms then engaged in city work.

Hadding obtained an injunction, restraining the industrial commission and the city from interfering with his rights as a citizen to work as long as he desired.

He represented in his petition that he is the father of eight children, and could not earn enough in eight hours to support them. At least a 10 hour day, he said, was needed to earn wages enough to feed and clothe the family.

DELPHOS COUNCILMEN LINE UP FOR VOTE ON PAVING LEGISLATION

Four of the seven votes of Delphos city council will be necessary Tuesday night to advance legislation for paving the city streets.

Improvement of S. Main, S. Pierce and Cleveland-sts., for paving.

Three ordinances, repealing other legislation which had the teeth removed from it when property owners secured an injunction last summer against contract to pave the thoroughfares with wood blocks, were placed on their first reading January 2.

It will require a majority vote to have the ordinance read for the second and third times, but it is expected, that a motion is made to suspend rules and place the ordinances on their third and final reading Tuesday night, six affirmative votes will be required.

In local administration circles it is predicted that the new legislation will be placed on the second reading Tuesday night, but that councilmen will hold it over for final consideration until the first meeting in February.

A survey of councilmen's position in the matter indicates that Davis, Datto, William Scherger and Pelifer are sure to vote affirmatively.

Property owners affected by the improvement are expected to attend the meeting. A score of them were present January 2.

PRESIDENT RECOVERS FROM GRIP ATTACK

WASHINGTON — Inclement weather prevented President Harding from venturing on to the White House to the executive offices today after having been confined to his room for nearly a week with grip.

The president was said to have virtually recovered and was able to do some work on important papers but his physician, Dr. C. L. Sawyer, thought it inadvisable to take any chances. The day was chilly and the atmosphere muggy, although all of the stretch to the executive offices is roofed over, there is a space of a hundred feet or so exposed to the open air.

Among the callers who went to the executive office in a futile attempt to see Mr. Harding were Senators Lodge of Massachusetts and Watson of Indiana, two of the leaders of the senate Republicans.

COMMUNITY FAIR PLANNED TO AID PARK IN DELPHOS

Further plans for a community fair to be given in April for the benefit of the new Delphos city park will be considered Wednesday night at a meeting of the Kiwanis public affairs and park committee, headed by L. C. Landick.

Kiwanians are backing the movement and endeavoring to enlist the support of the entire community. Rural folk as well as Delphos residents are being asked for support, on the grounds that the park should be made the official reunion place and picnic grounds in the Delphos locality.

DEATH COMES TO DELPHOS DOCTOR

Ed Edwards, Native of Wales, Dies at Home Sunday

Dr. Edward Edwards, 63, Delphos physician, died at his home on Canal-st., Sunday at 4:50 a. m. after a long illness from heart and liver trouble.

He practiced medicine in Delphos since 1897. His first experience in the medical profession was gained in Venezuela, where he practiced for 15 months after taking extensive courses in Germany and England.

Edwards was born in Tynywllch, Llanfyllin, Montgomeryshire, North Wales, March 5, 1859. All but two of his brothers and sisters were reared in Wales. Lewis, Thomas, Mary and Mrs. Margaret Ellis reside in proximity to the old Welsh homestead. The three children who came their lot in America are Mrs. Allen Price, south of Van Wert; Humphrey Edwards, Gomer, farmer and the doctor. One sister, Catherine, preceded Dr. Edwards in death.

The physician was married November 10, 1898, to Emma J. Gilliland, of near Van Wert. She survives her husband.

Dr. Edwards graduated in New York March 21, 1878, and came to Lima, from whence he removed to Gomer. He attended a veterinary college in Ontario, Canada and graduated in 1888. He practiced until 1892.

He then decided to take a course at the Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia. He graduated in 1894 and went to Berlin, Germany, where he studied at the university. He also had four months practice in Guy's hospital, London.

Returning to America, he opened an office in Venezuela and then went to Delphos. He made several trips to Europe in pursuit of medical knowledge.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. at the home on Canal-st. There will be no church services and a request is made to omit flowers. Interment in the Van Wert cemetery.

ROGERS EPIGRAMS CUT BY OHIO MOVIE CENSORS

COLUMBUS — Ohio movie censors are going after the epigrams of Will Rogers.

The following sayings were ordered cut from a current news reel before it can be shown in Ohio: "They are bringing our soldiers back from Europe. Would have brought them sooner, but we didn't have anyone in Washington who knew where they were."

"Boys went over to get into one war and are coming back to keep from getting into another."

Censors examined 179 reels in the last seven days and ordered 23 cuts.

In addition to the sentence, Bonanno must pay a $50 fine. The money has not been paid to date, according to Juvenile Judge J. H. Hamilton.

ROTARY GOVERNOR SPEAKER HERE

Club Head Says Business Men Will Settle World Troubles

Prediction that economic unrest in the world will be finally settled by the business men of the nations and that the Rotary club will play a prominent part, was made by Theodore E. Smith, Akron, district governor, at the Rotary luncheon Monday noon at the Norval hotel.

This question is one which cannot be settled by either religious or diplomatic bodies, as it involves the business life of the nations more than any other. Smith asserted, and some action by an international organization such as Rotary can do a wonderful work in bringing about peace.

Rotary's duty is to aid all civil projects which, because of some circumstance, are not able to function properly because of either insufficient financial support or the lack of strong backing in the community, Governor Smith pointed out.

Problems of citizenship, a higher code of business ethics, boys' work and crippled children aid are duties imposed upon the clubs by either the state or international conventions, he said, and the activities of a club can have a far reaching effect upon the community in which it exists.

Members of the Lima club were complimented by Smith for the way in which they are aiding the handicapped and unprivileged children in this community.

Centers of the work in northern Ohio are Lima, Toledo, Cleveland, Akron and Youngstown.

Other problems discussed by Governor Smith were classification and attendance. A thorough survey of the local organization is being made during his stay in the city and the directors of the club are being aided in outlining the year's work.

Members are urged to attend either the conference in Akron, April 2 and 4 or the international convention in St. Louis, June 18, or both. The younger members were especially urged to attend the conventions.

A short talk on the Thrift Week campaign which closes Tuesday will be told by one of the speakers enlisted in the work as the opening talk of the banquet dinner, which will start at 6 p. m.

Two open forum talks will be given. The first will be on "What Service Does the Retail Store Expect from the Credit Bureau?" and will be led by E. H. Kottler. The other will be "How Can the Credit Bureau Furnish Prompt and Accurate Service?" and will be discussed by another merchant of the city.

Details of the Toledo convention of credit men to be held February 21 and 22 will be explained to the membership by J. E. Morton, manager of the Board of Commerce and general supervisor of the credit bureau.

“UPPER CLASSES”
TAKING TO DOPE

New York Health Officer Reveals
New Drug Menace

FATHERS, MOTHERS VICTIMS

Habit Not Confined to Young,
Dr. Copeland Says

NEW YORK — (United Press) — Enormous quantities of opium and its manufactured products are being consumed by the so-called “upper classes” in this country, according to Dr. Royal Copeland, health officer of Greater New York, and United States Senator-elect.

“The decrease in the use of drugs by the underworld, if there is a decrease,” Dr. Copeland said, “is very slight, altho the police are constantly on the watch and continually raiding underworld dope houses. But the people of the upper classes, over whom the police have comparatively little control, and whose personal habits they are not in a position to regulate, are taking to drugs more and more every day.”

“In the health department we come in contact with almost every man or woman arrested for a crime of violence,” Dr. Copeland continued, “and I can state positively that there is not one criminal in a hundred that is not a dope fiend. Crimes may be planned with cool heads, but they are executed by men who have absorbed their courage from the pipe or the needle.”

“But aside from these people of warped mentality, we see hundreds every year who come from good families, and have been dragged down by opium. And these are not always young people, as might be expected, but fathers of families, and mothers, too. Men and women who are highly respected in their social circles, but who have taken up dope and let it get the best of them.”

INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENT

The only possible means of stopping the growth of the drug evil is by international agreement, Dr. Copeland declared. He said that the nations of the world must agree to limit the amount of drugs manufactured before any important progress can be made. The actual amount of drugs brought into this country during the course of a year is impossible to estimate.

Over 100,000 pounds of opium and its bi-products are legally imported every year into the United States, Copeland declared. This is approximately six grains per capita, or twice as much as is imported by any other civilized country in the world.

Of course, a great deal of this is used legitimately in medical preparations.

The poppy fields of India, which are among the largest in the world, are subsidized by the British government.

In China, Persia and Arabia, thousands of acres are planted with the dope flower. Large quantities of the raw opium is brought to this country for refining and then exported. After being sent out to Mexico and other countries, enormous quantities are smuggled back again, according to the doctor.

There is at the present time practically no hope of stopping the evil and popular feeling on the question must be aroused soon, or the whole country will seriously feel the effects,” according to the commissioner, who thinks that the use of dope is assuming the proportions of a real peril.

Dr. Copeland expressed the fear that the public would not realize the danger until the dope evil had gained a tremendous hold upon the American people.

“And until the country does realize what is happening,” he said, “there is no hope. Thousands of the finest men and women will die in disgrace if immediate action is not taken.”

INVESTIGATE BEFORE URGING COURT

LIMA appears to be divided on the matter of a municipal court to replace the present Criminal court and the two justices of the peace. Not only has opposition to the plan been brought about by certain interests which charge that they will be placed at a disadvantage by such a court, but the legal fraternity of the city has shown that its body is not of one mind on the project.

The layman, who has learned to shun courts as much as possible, does not understand the wrangle. We do not believe the city should go headlong into the proposition until all angles are sifted, and the best interests of the community are safeguarded.

This newspaper has repeatedly called attention to the evils of the old system under which justices of the peace operate. We do not believe the system all it should be for a large community where much litigation involving small matters is to be handled annually. There are certain provisions of this system which do not work toward the best interests of the entire community if not in the hands of competent and honest justices. Lima, however, has been fortunate in this respect in recent years and much of the trouble once experienced has been eliminated.

There are many angles to the proposed municipal court to be considered, not the least being the expense such a plan would entail, and sound arguments for and against it. Many Ohio cities have such courts and Lima should have no trouble in obtaining concrete facts as to the working of these tribunals if an effort is put forth in that direction.

Since the lawyers cannot agree and patrons of the courts are fighting the plan and the public is completely in the dark, we advise that a thorough investigation be made before a special bill to authorize the court is presented to the state legislature.

AUTO SHOW FOR LIMA

LIMA'S automobile industry will be given a considerable impetus as a result of a show that has been planned for the week of March 5. Remembrance of the success of exhibits of this character held in the past impelled forward looking men of this city to conceive the idea of another, after a lapse of two years, on a bigger scale than ever before.

Thru a stroke of good fortune, it has been possible to secure the mammoth structure used as a tabernacle during the Biederwolf evangelistic campaign. This will insure ample floor space for the exhibits that are assured and the convenient location of the structure is also an argument in favor of holding the show there.

Dealers in autos and auto accessories working unitedly, makes assured the success of the project. Dealers in all kinds of motor vehicles will be represented in the show and while it will be essentially a Lima effort so far as the exhibits are concerned, it is expected that hundreds and perhaps thousands of people from the territory adjacent to this city will advantage the opportunity to see the very latest in motor vehicles and accessories therefor.

An innovation in connection with the forthcoming show is the plan whereby the Great American Mutual Indemnity company of Mansfield will underwrite the exhibition and will handle all the details, with the aid and cooperation of Lima dealers. The Pugh company will represent the underwriting concern locally.

Another excellent feature is the fact that the exhibit will have the cooperation of the Board of Commerce and all civic organizations interested in the future of Lima. The motor industry is only in its infancy, it has been well said. The Lima show will bring before the eyes of thousands of people the last word in advance in this great industry which is making such rapid strides.

AMERICA'S MONEY SUPPLY

AMERICA started 1923 with over $614 million dollars of money on hand, circulating or locked in vaults, including paper bills and silver and gold. So reports the Treasury. The total was about two and a tenth times as much as in 1914.

Many, comparing with the increase in their personal funds, will get a headache trying to figure out who has the cash.

In Kansas City, a flyover was made into a flying machine, but this frequently happens on rough roads.

In Akron, Ohio, a pup of three months saved nine lives. No telling how many a grown dog would have saved.

THE LOW DOWN STOMACH

Every mail brings a wait or two from unhappy folks who have had an X-ray picture taken and found the stomach a low down organ. Nowadays every businesslike young person who hates to build up a practice installs an X-ray outfit and proceeds to show people how fearfully they are made. I receive all kinds of X-ray films and prints, for which I have no use, and for which the victim himself has less but doesn't quite understand it yet.

Many of us have stomachs and colons and things sagged all out of place and do not know it and should not know it. It does us no harm. Why worry?

X-ray examinations, like certain poisons, should not be purchasable without a physician's prescription. They're doing much more harm than good.

Even when a ptosis or sagging stomach or colon does cause any health impairment, and the patient is relieved or restored, to fair health by a suitable course of exercises, rest, diet, etc., if a final examination is made the stomach or colon will usually be found about as low, if not as mean, as it was in the beginning. This fact suggests to the thoughtful mind that the mere displacement or sagging of the organ is of no particular importance.

Probably women worry more than men do about a real or imagined "displacement" of something or other inside. This is perhaps largely due to the training of women. Their education has been, until recently, tainted with the morbid conception of "weakness" "delicacy" applying to the feminine sex. Of course the feminine sex is no more delicate or weak in any real sense than is the masculine.

The four final movements of the Brady Symphony are among the best exercises for strengthening the belly and opposing ptosis or sagging of abdominal organs. These consist of (1) rising to sitting from the supine, (2) elevating legs to vertical from the supine, (3) the same as (1) but in addition the body is flexed on the thighs, and (4) the same as (2) but in addition the thighs are flexed on the body.

BRING ME HIS EARS

(Title taken from a novel of the west by Clarence Mulford.)
Though I am very calm and sweet and kind,
And very much inclined to peace,
There are some guys I have in mind
Whom I would will a quick decease;
The bird who drives a motor car
And at all regulations jeers—
Is one I'd like to maim and mar,
"Bring me his ears."
The insolent box-office clerk,
The room clerk at a smart hotel,
Will someone kindly take a dirk
And slice his ears and nose as well?
The ticket speculator, too,
Please catch him when he next appears,
And when your butchery is through,
"Bring me his ears."
The dandling man with varnished
hair,
The traffic cop who's always gruff,
The masher with his smirking stare,
The snob who pulls his upstage
stuff,
The parlor "red," the critic bland,
Who greets America with jeers,
Go get him, kid, stay not your hand,
"Bring me his ears!"

That dingy film on teeth

Millions now combat it

You see today white glistening teeth—teeth that look clean and safe. And you see dingy teeth.

Let us show you where the difference lies. See what a change can come in a week. Ask for this ten-day test.

Combat the film

Film is what makes teeth cloudy, and film ruins teeth.

That is the vicious coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. Food stains, etc., discolor it. Then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

It is curdled

Dental science, after long research, has found ways to fight that film. One acts to curdle it, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods. Then a new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. These two great film combatants have come to millions by it.

That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. Careful people of some 50 nations now employ it, largely by dental advice. New beauty and new safety have come to millions by it.

A 10-Day Tube

See Coupon

Avoid Harmful Grit
Pepsodent curdles the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing agent is far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

Manifold power

Pepsodent also gives manifold power to Nature's tooth-protecting agents. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids. Thus, night and day, tooth enemies are fought as they never were before.

A delightful test

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

Then you will know how to beautify your teeth. You will know how to better protect them. This is too important to neglect. Cut out the coupon now.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: I met a wonderful man—to me the most wonderful in the world. After ten happy months near him I did see him again for some time. The last time I saw him, he told me I could never mean anything to him except as a sweetheart, because of his mother and a difference in nationality.

But I cannot put him out of my thoughts, who are so terribly that it hurts to think of him, yet I know it will hurt worse not to think of him. Shall I give him up and turn to others who could help me forget? Or shall I keep on loving him, hoping and praying that I can win him yet?

A. G. I'll young man has told you outright that you can never be anything more to him than you now are. The only sensible thing for you to do is to try to forget him. It would be a great mistake for you to waste years in cherishing a love for a man who has said he never will marry you. By all means, cultivate other friendships and welcome a new love to make you forget the old.

Dear Miss Smart: I am 19 years old. About three months ago I met a young man from out of town. I like him very much. He asked me to write to him, which I did, and have been corresponding with him until lately. I did not receive any answer to my last two letters. Now I don't know whether to write again, as I was tired of me. What would you advise?

A READER I would just wait a while. Perhaps the young man has been ill or very busy. Or it may be he has decided that the letters between you were becoming more frequent than his regard for you justified. Or that the tone of your letters indicated you were taking too much for granted. If he is really interested, he doubtless will write to you again. Meanwhile, cultivate new friendships and new interests and don't build up too much hope on this friendship.

Dear Miss Smart: I am a girl 18, and am a good deal overweight. I know I would feel better and look better if I could only reduce. How can I reduce without exercise? I cannot afford to exercise.

A. B. You can't afford to exercise! What you probably mean is that you cannot afford to join a gymnasium class or pay for other instruction in systematic exercises. That need not prevent you from getting plenty of the best kind.

Plan to walk briskly from three to five miles every day, even if you must change your daily schedule to get the time. Skating and dancing will help, too. Then in the summer, there will be hikes and swimming. And you can secure books and magazines containing simple exercises which you can do at home, and which will require only about 10 minutes morning and evening.

Lima Man Says the Plant Juice Has Relieved His Health Trouble HE HAS GAINED 19 POUNDS

Day after day, citizens of Lima and vicinity continue to come forward with signed testimonials telling of the relief they have derived through the use of this new herbal remedy, Plant Juice, that is now being introduced and explained to the

MR. J. J. THOMPSON local public by The Plant Juice Man at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima.

Just recently, Mr. J. M. Thompson, of 716 East Market street, Lima, a well known resident of this city, called on The Plant Juice Man and said:

"I am the third person in my family who has been relieved of health trouble by taking your Plant Juice," said Mr. Thompson. "Your medicine does more than is claimed and I am glad to recommend it to the public."

"The truth is, that my folks never expected to see me looking and feeling as well as I do today because I was down in bed when I started taking your Plant Juice. I could not eat without awful bloating spells afterward; was weak and run down—strength all gone—and I could not sleep right. When I was able to get up, my joints would be so sore and stiff that I couldn't even get my clothes on by myself."

"This was eight weeks ago. Today, I am in fine condition. I can eat without bloating, sleep fine and have gained 19 pounds. I am able now to put my clothes on without assistance because I do not have the least soreness. I can't say enough for your Plant Juice after what it did for me."

CAPTAIN BLOOD

—BY RAFAEL SABATINI—

"Is there anybody else who shares Captain Blood's opinion?"

None answered him. His own officers were overawed by him; Blood's followers naturally preferred Cartagena, because offering the greater chance of loot. Loyalty to their leader kept them silent.

"You seem to be alone in your opinion," said the Baron with his vinegary smile.
Captain Blood laughed outright. He had suddenly read the Baron's mind.

M. de Rivarol, intrigued by his mirth, scowled upon him disapprovingly.

"Why do you laugh, monseigneur?"
"Because I discover here an irony that is supremely droll. You, M. le Baron, General of the King's Armies by Land and Sea in America, propose an enterprise of a purely buccaneering character; whilst I, the buccaneer, am urging one that is more concerned with upholding the honor of France."

"I HAVE TO REPORT THAT WE ARE IN POSSESSION OF THE PORT OF BOCA CHICA."

"M. le filibustier," cried Rivarol in a thick voice, "it seems that I must remind you that I am your superior officer."

"My superior officer! You! Lord of the World! Why, you are just a common pirate!"

He stalked out, and his three captains—albeit they thought him mad—rolled after him in loyal silence.

Inwardly M. de Rivarol burned with shame and rage. The mask had been plucked from him, and he had been held up to scorn—he, the General of the King's Armies by Sea and Land in America.

Nevertheless, it was to Cartagena that they sailed in the middle of March. Volunteers and negroes had brought up the forces directly under M. de Rivarol to twelve hundred men. With these he thought he could keep the buccaneer contingent in order and submissive.

Narrowly they missed the Jamaica fleet with Colonel Bishop, which sailed north for Tortuga two days after the Baron de Rivarol's southward passage.

Having crossed the Caribbean in the teeth of contrary winds, it was not until the early days of April that the French fleet hove in sight of Cartagena, and M. de Rivarol summoned a council aboard his flagship to determine the method of assault.

"It is of importance, messieurs," he told them, "that we take the city by surprise, not only before it can put itself into a state of defense, but before it can remove its treasures inland. I promise to land a force sufficient to achieve this to the north of the city tonight after dark."

It was sheer obstinacy and empty pride that drove him, and he received the lesson he deserved. The fleet stood in during the afternoon to within a mile of the coast, and under cover of darkness three hundred men were pulled away for the shore in the canoes, piraguas, and ships' boats. Rivarol's pride compelled him, however much he may have disliked the venture, to lead them in person.

The first six boats were caught in the surf, and pounded into fragments before their occupants could extricate themselves. The thunder of the breakers and the cries of the shipwrecked warned those who followed, and thereby saved them from sharing the same fate.

The Baron went back to his flagship an infuriated, but by no means a wiser man.

He was awakened at dawn by the rolling thunder of guns. Emerging upon the poop in nightcap and slippers, he beheld a sight that increased his unreasonable and unreasoning fury. The four buccaneer ships under canvas were going their extraordinary maneuvers half a mile off the Boca Chica and little more than half a mile away from the remainder of the fleet, and from their flanks flame and smoke were belching each time they swung broadside to the great round fort that guarded that narrow entrance.

The fort was returning the fire vigorously and viciously. But the buccaneers timed their broadsides with extraordinary judgment to catch the defending ordinance ricocheting; then as they drew the Spaniard's fire they swung away again, not only taking care to be over-riding targets, but farther, to present no more than bow or stern to the fort, their masts in line, when the heaviest cannonades were to be expected.

Gibbering and cursing, M. de Rivarol stood there and watched this action, so presumptuously undertaken by Blood on his own responsibility.

Meanwhile the fight went merrily on. The fort was suffering badly yet for all their maneuvering the buccaneers were not escaping punishment. The starboard gunwale of the Atropos had been hammered into splinters, and a shot had caught her astern in the coach. The Elizabeth was badly battered about the fore-castle, and the Arabella's main-top had been shot away, whilst toward the end of that engagement the Lachesis came reeling out of the fight with a shattered rudder, steering herself by sweeps.

It may have been a couple of hours later, when Captain Blood, as spruce and cool as if he had just come from a levee, stepped upon the quarter-deck of the Victorieuse, to confront M. de Rivarol, still in bed-gown and nightcap.

"I have to report, M. le Baron, that we are in possession of the fort on Boca Chica. The standard of France is flying from what remains of its tower, and the way into the outer harbor is open to your fleet."

M. de Rivarol was compelled to swallow his fury.

"You are fortunate, M. Blood, that you succeeded," he said. "It would have gone very ill with you had you failed."

Blood pointed out the fort at the mouth of the inner harbor, which was just barely visible above the waving palms on the intervening tongue of land. He announced that its armament was less formidable than that of the outer fort, which they had reduced; but on the other hand, the passage was very much narrower than the Boca Chica, and before they could attempt to make it in any case, they must dispose of those defenses. He proposed that the French ships should enter the outer harbor, and proceed at once to bombardment. Meanwhile, he would land three hundred buccaneers and some artillery on the eastern side of the lagoon, beyond the fragrant garden islands dense with rich bearing fruit-trees, and proceed simultaneously to storm the fort in the rear. Thus beset on both sides at once, and demoralized by the fate of the much stronger outer fort, he did not think the Spaniards would offer a very long resistance. Then it would be for M. de Rivarol to garrison the fort, whilst Captain Blood would sweep on with his men.

At noon on the morrow, shorn of defenses and threatened with bombardment, Cartagena sent offers of surrender to M. de Rivarol.

Swollen with pride by a victory for which he took the entire credit to himself, the Baron dictated his terms. He demanded that all public effects and office accounts be delivered up; that the merchants surrender all moneys and goods held by them for their correspondents; the inhabitants could choose whether they would remain in the city or depart; but those who went must first deliver up all their property, and those who elected to remain must surrender half, and become the subjects of France; religious houses and churches should be spared, but they must render accounts of all moneys and valuables in their possession.

Cartagena agreed, having no choice in the matter, and on the next day, which was the 5th of April, M. de Rivarol entered the city and proclaimed it now a French colony, appointing M. de Cussy its Governor.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

The honor of M. de Rivarol. During the capitulation and for some time after, Captain Blood and the greater portion of his buccaneers had been at their post utterly in ignorance of what was taking place. Blood, altho the man chiefly responsible for the swift reduction of the city, was not even shown the consideration of being called to the council of officers.

This was a slight that at another time Captain Blood would not have borne for a moment. But at present, in his odd frame of mind, and its divorcement from piracy, he was content to smile his utter contempt of the French General. Not so, however, his captains, and still less his men. It was only by undertaking to voice their grievances to the Baron that their captain was able for the moment to pacify them.

The Baron sat scrutinizing ledgers, like a city merchant, and checking figures to make sure that all was correct to the last peso. He looked up irritated by the interruption which Captain Blood's advent occasioned.

"M. de Baron," the latter greeted him. "I must speak frankly; and you must suffer it. My men are on the point of mutiny."

The end of it all was that M. de Rivarol gave a promise at once to make the necessary preparations, and if Captain Blood and his officers would wait upon him on board the Victorieuse tomorrow morning, the treasure should be weighed in their presence and their fifth share surrendered there and then into their own keeping.

Among the buccaneers that night there was hilarity over the sudden abatement of M. de Rivarol's monstrous pride. But when the next dawn broke over Cartagena, they had the explanation of it. The abscending M. de Rivarol had gone off with the treasure, taking with him the troops and mariners he had brought from France. He had left behind him at Cartagena not only the empty-handed buccaneers, whom he had swindled, but also M. de Cussy.

Captain Blood alone kept his head, setting a curb upon his deep chagrin. He had promised himself that before parting from M. de Rivarol he would present a reckoning for all the petty affronts and insults to which that unspeakable fellow—now proved a scoundrel—had subjected him.

GLAD HE IS A DIRT PLANTER

"Baby" of Donahey Cabinet Talks on Agriculture

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press)

"If a man can't put his boots on and muck around in a bog yard, or any other part of a farm, he's not much of a farmer."

With emphasis and earnestness, Charles V. Truax of Sycamore, Wyandotte-co, new state director of agriculture, thus summed up his attitude on those who would attempt to direct a farm from an office chair.

The new head of Ohio's agricultural activities is proud to be called a "dirt" farmer, and declares he never has been, or ever will be a "swivel" chair farmer.

"I worked on my farm, every day," he continued. "I believed in 1906 in 1913. But there were only 107 in 1920 and only 86 in 1921."

NEW DIAMOND CIRCUIT TO OPEN SEASON IN APRIL

OTHER CITIES IN FAVOR OF LEAGUE

(BY MERRICK M. HILL)

Beyond all possibility of a doubt, league baseball was assured for Lima next summer.

While very little progress was made in perfecting the final organization for the league at the meeting in Lima Sunday afternoon, it was disclosed that every city included in the circuit thinks very favorably of the idea, and will boost.

Delphos, Van Wert, Wapakoneta, Lima, Ottawa and Sidney, were represented at the meeting. St. Marys and Celina were not present but, it is known that St. Marys is favorable to any moves taken to make league baseball a certainty. Celina, however, does not favor the idea very strongly, but it is thought that the Reservoir city will come in.

Should St. Marys decide to play independent baseball, Piqua is expected to jump into the breach.

The meeting at the Hotel Norval at times turned into a "fanning bee" as the managers would discuss games and plays of by-gone seasons, in which teams included in the circuit had taken part. And several instances of disputes between managers were cited, and it was said that a majority of these would have been eliminated, had it been possible to refer the questioned points to a league head for settlement.

A schedule was presented which started the season the middle of April and ended on Labor Day. This schedule called for Sunday and holiday games, was tentatively approved by the managers. Several changes in playing dates will be made, however, at the next meeting, and it is expected that in its final draft, each team will play at home on alternate Sundays for one complete round of the eight clubs. The third game between each two teams will be played at either city, according to agreement between the managers. In the case of Lima, it was decided to play the third game in Lima. This will give Lima two home games to one away from home. To make up for this, Lima will play away from home for the first three Sundays of the season and will make a complete round of the circuit early in the season.

Opposition to the league in Delphos is expected to be withdrawn at the next meeting of the American Legion.

Representatives of the American Legion and the new baseball manager were at the meeting Sunday, and both stated that they were favorably impressed and that in their opinion, the league would be a great benefit to baseball. Delphos cannot enter the organization without obtaining the consent of the American Legion, but this, it is thought, will be forthcoming. The plan of the new diamond circuit, as announced up by Bernard Harlan, temporary chairman of the league, is simply an organization which will put baseball between cities that would play each other without a league—a business-like footing. And there seems to be no question but that the quality of the game would be raised considerably. The first formal meeting, at which officers will be elected, a constitution adopted and by-laws drawn up will be held February 3 at the Hotel Norval. Every team in the circuit will be represented and a name will also be selected.

NO. 20—THE BEST BIT OF STRATEGY EVER SAW

To Connie Mack goes the credit of pulling one of the best bits of strategy I have ever seen staged on a ball field.

It was back in 1908, Connie was getting together a team of youngsters. In the fall of the year the team began to show its real worth. In 1909 it surprised the baseball world by finishing second, carrying the Detroit team right up to the last week before the race was decided.

In 1910, 1911 and 1912 that same team won the American League pennant and world's championship. In 1914 it won the pennant but lost in the world series in four straight to the Boston Braves. It was then that Mack sold his stars, started to rebuild again, and last year seemed to be on the way to better things. Philadelphia was playing a serious in Chicago. The White Sox were in the thick of the battle for the pennant. The Athletics were playing great ball and Mack was intent on putting a crimp in Chicago's pennant chances.

In one of the games of the series, the Athletics, thru poor pitching and inability to hit, were hopelessly beaten. Fielder Jones, in his effort to keep up in the race, had been working his pitching staff overtime. Ed Walsh being the largest part of the pitching staff.

About the seventh inning, when the Sox, enjoying a commanding lead, Jones sent in a "conductor" in the name of Moe Manuel to relieve one of the veteran pitchers, Manuel, if my memory serves me correctly, had been secured from the New Orleans club after a big year in the South.

Manuel worked three innings and certainly looked like a "conductor" in the hole. Possessing good control, he was getting the ball over and the Athletics were waiting him out, with the result that the count was usually two strikes and no balls when they were ready to hit.

Tomorrow — The greatest hunting I ever saw.

PHILADELPHIA — Connie Mack is the most original cuss in the world. Probably that is the reason he is one of the greatest baseball leaders in the game.

"You must have pitching to get anywhere," says the genial Mack, "and I expect much improved work from my boys next season."

"It wouldn't surprise me if a youngster on my pitching staff by the name of Ogden proved one of my most effective twirlers next season."

No doubt that statement from Mack will cause a lot of people to wonder who Ogden is.

The youngster is a Swarthmore collegian, still in college. He is a brother of the Ogden who for several years has been the star of the Baltimore team.

What did Ogden do last year? Nothing very impressive; won one and lost four games.

However, Connie Mack should know and his opinion of Ogden is interesting to say the least.

NEW UMPIRE IS WAR HERO

CHICAGO — Emmett "Red" Ormsby, who is to receive a trial as a member of the American League staff of umpires the coming season, is a hero of the World War.

Ormsby began his baseball career as a pitcher and was meeting with much success when the United States got in the World War. Ormsby joined the marines, and was decorated for distinguished service.

While overseas he was gassed, returning to this country he found his ball-playing ability greatly impaired. His love for the game caused him to take a whirl at umpiring. He made good.

For the past two years he has worked in the Western League. His work was so uniformly good it attracted the attention of President Johnson of the American League, who offered him a contract for 1923. He accepted.

Gibbons Withdraws Challenge To Meet Dempsey

(BY HENRY L. FARRELL) NEW YORK — Opposition of the New York boxing commission to the proposed Dempsey-Gibbons match because of the disparity in weights and size resulted today in the withdrawal of the Gibbons forfeit and challenge.

"Having failed to get Dempsey in this way, we will go after the championship match in the other and more business way," Eddie Kane, manager of Gibbons, said today.

"We will fight our way to the match and the commission will not be able to stop it," he said.

Kane took the action of the commission without much fuss. He seemed to think like the rest of the fight fans in New York that the commission's ideas do not amount to much and that if Gibbons beats Johnson he will get the Dempsey match regardless of what the commission thinks about it.

William Muldoon, chairman of the commission, also said that Gibbons could find plenty of work among men his own weight without going out of his class. He said he was opposed to any boxer leaving his class.

He took the position that the commission could not put itself in the role of a matchmaker by suggesting a light-heavyweight opponent for Gibbons. In all of these statements, Muldoon shows the inconsistency for which the New York commission has become notorious all over the world.

Twenty pounds is too much of a handicap for heavyweights, he said. Willard had almost 40 pounds on Dempsey at Toledo, but the New York commission had nothing to do with it. The New York commission could have had something to say recently when Sailor Friedman, an alleged lightweight, went into the ring against Eddie Fitzsimmons with an advantage of 15 pounds, but the commission did not say a word. The commission says that boxers should not leave their class and every boxer of importance in New York is doing every week and commissioners are letting them get away with it. Outside of Benny Leonard and Jack Dempsey, not one of the champions is willing to defend the title in his own class.

Gibbons did not bother Dempsey with challenges until he felt that he had developed to the point where he would give the champion a good fight.

Several challenges to Dempsey brought to response and several offers made by promoters were also unanswered.

Gibbons, of course, is somewhat smaller than Dempsey, but size is no great factor in the heavyweight class, as Dempsey proved against Willard.

If any of the contenders for the title has a real chance to beat Dempsey, it is Gibbons. He is fast on his feet, he can box, he has had experience and he can hit with either hand. He is a great infighter and is as good at close quarters as Dempsey.

Gibbons wants a fight with Dempsey next summer and he ought to get it. He is popular around New York and there is no doubt that it would be a good card for any promoter.

Dempsey has said many times that he will go to Europe for another visit if the American promoters do not get busy and get him some work.

Another journey to the other side could mean only that Dempsey was going over there to get some work and Carpenter and Beckett are the only eligibles on the other side.

Dempsey vs. Beckett sounds like a ridiculous attraction on this side, but the British take their boxing seriously and many of them would pay good money just to see Dempsey in action.

Had it not been for Battling Siki, the Dempsey-Carpenter No. 2 act would be on now, but that unlooked for knockout reduced the drawing power of the Brunchman, but the bout may be staged, nevertheless.

over the wire that some famous fighter is broken down and out.

A never could get that angle. While in some of the recent big championship bouts the principals received sums that appeared a bit out of proportion to the attraction, I have always felt that money earned in the ring was far from soft. Fighters usually deserve all they get.

Being a good fellow has soured the fatal ten for many a great fighter. In the fight game a man is down when he is out. That motto works both ways. Your Corbett earned several fortunes, but he was a good fellow. He is back in Denver, where he started.

Being knocked out and going broke, immediately separate a fighter from all his fair-weather friends — his "good-fellow" associates.

Too bad so few of the great fighters fail to realize they cannot go on forever.

SELIMON GOOD BUSINESS MEN Only recently there was staged at Venice, Cal., a benefit for Ad Wolcott, former lightweight champion, conqueror of Battling Nelson.

The story of Nelson, Wolcott and Wolcott is merely the story of a majority of the ring celebrities. Few of them are good business men. Some squander their money in riotous living, but most of them fall for the wiles of fake promoters.

Many a dollar earned in the ring has been sunk in gold mines that never gave forth gold and oil wells that never oiled.

New York gossip has it that even Jack Dempsey and Benny Leonard, who have pulled down fabulous sums in the prize ring, would welcome a few big bouts at a fancy place. They could use the money. EASY COME, EASY GO.

"Easy come, easy go" is the old saying when the news is flashed

TIGER TRAINER IS PROFESSOR

PRINCETON, N. J. — It is now Professor Keane Fitzpatrick of Princeton, if you please.

The trustees of Princeton University have decided to confer this honor upon Fitzpatrick, who has played a most prominent part in the development of athletics at Princeton.

Fitzpatrick is one of the finest characters in sport. Aside from turning out athletic winners at Princeton, Fitzpatrick is doing much to make real men out of the Tiger athletes. He is a great influence for good at Princeton and the trustees realize it.

It is said that regardless of the many dispositions he must deal with, Fitzpatrick always makes a real friend out of every fellow that comes out for athletics at Princeton.

Since coming to Princeton, Fitzpatrick's teams have met with great success, not only on the track and field, but gridiron as well.

Fitzpatrick is more than a mere trainer to Bill Roberts, Princeton's football coach. He is said that Roberts lets Fitzpatrick be the entire judge as to the athletes' fitness for play and always abides by his decision in the matter.

Fitzpatrick, the dean of all college trainers, was in his day a great athlete.

Camp Honored Uteritz

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — When Walter Comp named Irwin Uteritz of Michigan as quarterback on his third all-American eleven for 1922, he succeeded the Ann Arbor football honor which it had never before received. For Uteritz is the first Michigan signal-caller to be elected for any of Camp's mythical teams.

Not that Michigan hasn't had some good quarterbacks for it has, but until last fall the dean of football critics didn't see fit to recognize them in an All-American way.

Take, for instance, "Boss" Weeks, 1902 captain, and still considered by most as the best pilot he has had during the 22 seasons he has been coaching at Michigan; Fred Norcross, 1905 leader; "Shorty" McMullan, star in 1910-11; Tommy Hough, who played the entire Harvard game in 1914 with a fractured collar bone; and Cliff Sparks, sterling quarterback in 1916-17-18. All of the above men were good field generals, and there were others, too, but the name goes to little Uteritz, who in two campaigns at Michigan has been elected into a twinkle of the football eye.

For some reason or other, this Camp has never been very much impressed by quarterbacks developed in the west. In fact, very few have been able to get a place "in the sun" in so far as any of his All-American teams were concerned.

COMMITTEES FOR DELPHOS TRI-COUNTY FAIR PLANS WILL BE NAMED FRIDAY

Committees to arrange various features of the Delphos tri-county fair for 1923 will be named at a meeting Friday night at the Lang shoe store. A call has been issued by President H. D. Bickel for all members of the fair association to attend.

Further progress has been made so far than last year within three weeks of the fair, officers say.

Cord, acrobatic and other acrobatic attractions have been booked with a Chicago company and contracts already entered into. Other features will be secured by the entertainment and free attractions committees.

Proposition of securing state aid for the fair will be discussed. Information on this subject will be included in a report to be made by H. D. Bickel and H. A. Lang on the recent Ohio Fair Boys' association convention in Columbus.

Advisability of securing rain insurance will be discussed. The insurance will not be taken out, however, until a few weeks before the fair if the association votes favorably.

Dates of the 1923 attraction have been announced for September 11 to 15.

"GIMME" FILM ARRAIGNS STINGY HUSBANDS

(By GERTRUDE GILLHAM)
RUPERT HUGHES deals with family finances in "Gimme." That is a subject of wide interest. One might say it is universal in its scope. However, Hughes puts his subject a glancing blow and thus fails to ring the bell. Perhaps you have watched men at a party or street fair, with a huge maul in their hands trying to make a weight slide up a wire and ring the bell at the top of a high upright. The secret of success in that venture lies not in the force with which the blow is struck, but in meeting the lever that propels the weight with a square blow. The success of driving home a conclusion on the screen is achieved in a similar manner, but many movie makers rely on force rather than on accuracy to gain their end. Thus Hughes starts out with the subtitle, "Money has wrecked more homes than sin." It sounds pretty, but is illogical. Having started on that false premise he is unable to articulate himself and his theme as he goes along and so he seems to have stopped several times during the filming to remark to the camera-man, "Well, this is only a movie after all." The audience hear his ranting even though he tried to laugh up his sleeve.

that condition did not exist. That may be the reason Hughes' story seems illogical to me. At any rate, any married couple seeing "Gimme" with food for discussion. The picture may result in numerous domestic upheavals. Hughes might have called the picture "Gimme, Ltd." It moves with the speed of the "Twentieth Century Limited." Indeed, its momentum at times blurs the significance of small incidents. It is like whizzing by a pasture and not being able to tell whether the animals in the background are horses or cows. This tempo is in keeping with the quick romance of the story. Hero and heroine fall in love at first glance. He almost kisses her upon their first meeting altho his fiancée accompanies him. He does kiss her on second meeting and every subsequent meeting. In fact, they are married on their fourth meeting. The pace of "Gimme" is apparently was continuous during the filming of the picture. Gaston Glass seems to be perfectly cast as the impulsive, impractical husband in "Gimme." Helen Chadwick is admirably placed as the wife. Indeed, Miss Chadwick always seems to be admirably fitted for the roles she plays. The one discordant note in the casting was Henry B. Walthall as a house-keeping husband. He does good work, but Walthall is one of the screen's best pantomimists. His talent should be utilized in more important roles.

GASTON GLASS

HELENE CHADWICK

Perhaps the above attitude toward "Gimme" is purely a masculine one. The story is a defense of the housewife who must continually ask the husband for money to meet household and personal expenses. In the several households in which I have lived

Keith Program Offers Variety to Patrons

OF unusual merit is the Keith bill of five good acts being presented at the Faurot Opera house today and until Thursday. There is variety enough to please the most exacting. The headline attraction, Gladys Delmar and her Syncoated Sextette, is without doubt one of the most remarkable vaudeville attractions of its kind to appear here for some time. Each young man is a gifted musician and their idea of the way that modern music should be played is extraordinary. Miss Delmar is a fine entertainer of songs besides being a fascinating dancer with an enchanting personality. Jewell's Maestros offer what is termed "A Circus Day in Toyland" and as the most extraordinary and novel act ever produced. Mmc. Jewell who is personally in charge of this aggregation of lively mechanical performers, is generally credited with giving the most perfect performance now before the public.

Jack Holt Wins Favor at Quilna

AS PETER B. KYNE stars "Making a Man" at the Quilna Theatre, it is proof enough of the high caliber of the presentation being offered by the Quilna theatre the first half of the week. Jack Holt acts the role of Horace Winsby, a millionaire sugar beet king who practically owns the village of San Geronimo, California. Because of his stern way in dealing with the farmers concerning mortgages, he is forced to leave and goes to New York. Here, in the city of the great, he has not the power which he possessed in his own city and he goes broke, with not even enough money to wire for a few thousand. And so he becomes driftwood in the great metropolis and the various incidents that follow lend many humorous scenes to the picture. There is a girl, too, whom he finally wins, not by financial power, but by overcoming his snobbish ways. Eva Novak plays the supporting role and there is a fine cast including Bert Woodruff, J. P. Lockney, Frank Nelson and Robert Dudley, all noted for expert and entertaining work on the screen. "Making a Man" provides fine entertainment to theatre goers and there are frequent bits of comedy to keep one laughing continually, tragic as they may seem to the unfortunate young millionaire. The Quilna News and an Aesop Fable precede the presentation.

Orpheum Show Laughing Hit of the Season

IF you have the Blues or the touch of the grip and feeling all out of sorts, a doctor's prescription wouldn't do you one half as much good as a visit to the New Orpheum to see Levine and Murray. Oh U Baby Co., now playing a week's engagement. It would take an entire page to tell you all about the show but we'll just pass up this and that and say this much, scene after scene takes place with such rapid succession that you get a kink in your neck following everything. It is just like watching a three ring circus. Tommy Levine and Frank Murray are the principal fun makers and they manage to keep the audience in a continuous uproar from start to finish. The chorus is good to look at and can sing as well as dance (which is something unusual for a chorus). Specialties are introduced during the play and a Prima Donna out of the ordinary renders "Kiss Me Again" in a manner that brought down the house at last night's performance. An entire new show will be offered Thursday for the last half of the week when the engagement of this company will terminate. It is also announced that "Poultry Night" will be the feature de "resistance" Thursday and will be officiated over by Tommy Levine and Frank Murray, which dear friends, is a guarantee of another hilarious entertainment. A dandy company putting on a dandy show and deserves good attendance.

Regal Splendor Projected In "If I Were Queen"

FILLED with romance and thrills, "If I Were Queen," is the most spectacular production theater picture lovers have had the pleasure of viewing for some time. It is an adaptation of the famous novel "The Three Corners Kingdom" by Du Vernet Rabel. The story revolves around an American heiress, who, when in school in France, forms a warm friendship for the Princess Oluf, sister of Kosnia. The princess confers upon her a Kosnian order known as the "Pledge of a Friend," whereby she is pledged to come to the aid of the donor, at any time or place. It is this locked that furnishes the material for the balance of the story. There are many adventures in the imaginary principalities of Central Europe, amid the regal pomp and splendor of high courts and castles. It is a romance from beginning to end, and Ethel Clayton in the role of the charming heiress, proves herself a star in every sense of the word. The production has been constructed on imposing lines and is massive in scenic investiture. A cast of high distinction appears in support of Ethel Clayton, including Andrew Lejon, Warren Baxter, Murdoch MacQuarrie and Genevieve Blinn. "If I Were Queen" is appearing today, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Sigma Theatre.

"Only a Shop Girl" Is Good Old-Time Drama

Motion pictures may come and go, these days, but the reputation established by Charles E. Blaney remains forever. "Only a Shop Girl," an old Blaney stage success, is being presented in picture form today and until Thursday at the Lyric theatre. All of the old bits of pathos, humor and action were retained and if anything improved upon by the un-

CLEMENTS' CONVICTION IN RUM CASE AFFIRMED

Lee Clements, soft drink vender, S. Main-st., lost another round in his encounter with the Crabbe act, in appeals court Monday. An appeal in a liquor case brought up from common pleas court was turned down by the jurists in the higher court. Judgment was affirmed.

The case originated when county officers raided Clements' place and haled him before Justice E. M. Botkin. Clements' counsel attacked the constitutionality of the Crabbe act, alleging the case should have been prosecuted under the Volstead law. It was also contended that the search conducted by officers was not legal; that use of liquor as evidence against the accused was unconstitutional.

HIGH GRADE EXCHANGED CARS
Behind the sale of each used car there is a reason or motive. That motive is likely to have a great bearing upon the value of the car you purchase.
For instance, a particular used car may be for sale because it was too expensive to operate.
Others may be for sale in their prime because of some change in the desire or requirements of their original owners.
Study the motive and pay accordingly.

MUTT AND JEFF—ISN'T JEFF THE LIMIT?

BRINGING UP FATHER

—By McManis

SHORT SHAVINGS

Ed. Arras, Columbus, International trustee of Kiwanis, who visited Lima a few days ago, told of his experience while in a motor boat which sunk while in shallow water. The owner explained to Arras, he relates, that the cause of the sinking was simple.

"I was greatly relieved to hear that," said Arras. "I would have felt very badly if the cause had been complicated."

Norton, barber at the Elks club, told of an exciting chase to law during the recent snow. A man was standing near the Buckeye Pipe Line office building waiting for a friend. A large chunk of snow slipped from the roof and hit the man on the head. He turned and saw some boys making snowballs down the street and chased them past West's before he gave up, Norton reports.

F. L. Dixon, insurance agent, bought a toy wagon for the two-year-old son of one of his friends. The next day he met the man. "He didn't seem pleased with me," said Dixon. It seems that at night the youngster insisted upon parking the wagon beside his bed. "During the night he began to cry," says Dixon. "His father got up to see what was wrong, stepped on the wagon, lost his balance and landed on the floor with a thud that woke the neighbors in the suite below."

BE THRIFTY

College Head Hails Thrift Week as Good Teacher

(BY E. H. LINDLEY)
Chancellor, University of Kansas, where many men noted for their success thru thrift have been graduated.

AWREENCE, Kan. — (Special) — Economy denotes a sound mind. Children sound in brain are, however, never born thrifty.

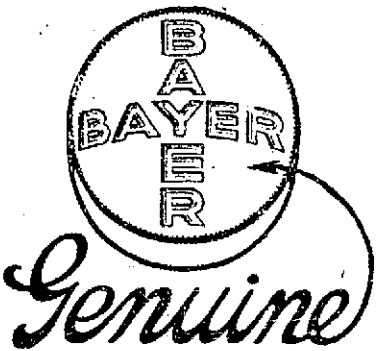

Thrift must be learned thru experience. It calls for a sense of order and an appreciation of the difference between more important and less important needs. The thrifty person is not one who saves the most, but one who lives within his income and who buys to the best advantage the things most necessary to the enrichment of life.

In a nation that spends more for candy than for school books there is a great necessity for training in thrift. It cannot be left to chance experience, but must be made a part of the program of public education.

TAFT BILL BRINGS OPPOSITION

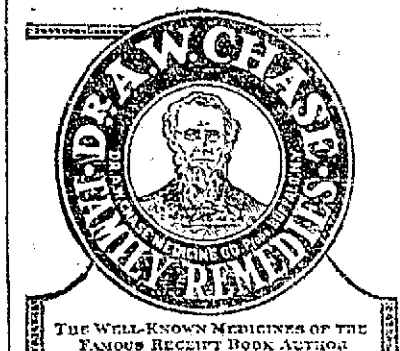

Measure Seen As Move To Move Taxes to New High

Opposition to the Taft bill designed to relieve the cities of the state from their financial difficulties, is developing from property owners who see in it a move to increase taxes to new high levels.

Under the provisions of the bill the tax limitation would be raised from 16 to 17 mills and all future sinking fund and interest charges of municipalities would be figured outside of the limitation, members of the Lima Real Estate board have been informed. This would have but one effect and that would be the immediate raising of the taxes on real estate and a consequent heavy burden on the home owner, the renter and the investor in real property, it is pointed out.

A Visit to the Peoples' Store Proves That All Sales Are Not Alike

Mr. Tehle, Manager of the Peoples' Store, feels pretty good over the fact that he has convinced a real skeptic that there is a difference in sales.

The man from Missouri came into the store, mentioned the fact that he noticed our Annual Sale advertised and then made the statement that he didn't believe in sales as he never yet had purchased a real bargain.

That was before Mr. Tehle showed him a suit reduced to $29.50 which could not be duplicated for less than $40. We have convinced this man as well as hundreds of other skeptical men and women that our sale is the real goods.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative. No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" — had breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 35c and 50c.

FOUR MEN ARRESTED ON ASSAULT TO KILL CHARGES

CLEVELAND.—Four men were arrested today on charges of assault to kill when their victim broke an enforced silence of nearly a month and accused them of the crime.

The bandages were removed from the broken jaw of Charles Wiggie and for the first time since Christmas Eve he spoke.

Then he told his brother, Cornelius, a police detective, the story of how he had been attacked by four men who beat him over the head with a gas pipe and kicked his face until the lower jaw was broken in several places. They fled after rifling his pockets, he said.
